

Waste All Your Time

Don't beat yourself up
for wasting so much time while they're all busy planning you can just follow that rhyme the one that's been stuck in your head since you were a child it's the only thing anyway that makes you feel alive

la la la la la la la la
and it'll be fine
we're all just a blip
and eventually we all will die

there's no reason to cry we're all just a smudge
and eventually we all will die

Teachers will tell you
not to waste time
and you gotta be something well that's not a crime nod your head politely there's no need to be mean but spend the rest of that class doodling something obscene

don't ask why
we're all just a dream

that's not a crime
just do nothing
'cause eventually we all will die

for staring at nothing
for over an hour
it's perfectly fine

So you spent a whole Saturday watching the TV
and eating a pizza
it is perfectly fine

There's no manifesto that says you must wrestle with big philosophical questions about who, what, where, and why

More Choruses:

go eat some pie
we're all just a shadow

why bother to try
we're all just matter

there's no reason to climb...that ladder

Misc:

what's the worst that could happen you end up with satan who I'm sure would appreciate someone who knows how to waste some time

Everyone's talking 'bout how you gotta go get it gotta get out there and do something or you'll regret it
 well don't fret it
 don't sweat it
